

Don't mess with private enterprise. We pay for this service - any enhancements to add value to our subscription are welcomed and appreciated. I don't see anyone stifling car manufacturers from offering new features to vehicles, just because Ford doesn't want Chevy to add new features to their car line.